COACHING CAREER

- Is in his first season as pitching coach with the D-backs.
- Spent the previous 3 seasons (2022-24) as the Phillies' Assistant Pitching Coach and Director of Pitching, where he oversaw pitching development with the Major League club as well as throughout the organization, integrating multiple groups within player development (strength and conditioning, athletic training, etc.) to create individualized plans for success.
- From 2022-24, Phillies' pitchers led the Majors with a combined 69.0 fWAR (ahead of the Braves' 61.9 fWAR).
- In 2024, Phillies' starting pitchers ranked among the NL in BB/9.0 IP (1st, 2.49), groundball pct. (1st, 47.6), fWAR (2nd, 16.0), innings (2nd, 903.0), ERA (3rd, 3.81) and K/9.0 IP (5th, 8.48).
- In 2024, Phillies' relievers ranked among the NL in K/9.0 IP (3rd, 9.71), fWAR (4th, 5.8) and ERA (7th, 3.94).
- Was part of the NL coaching staff at the 2023 All-Star Game.
- From 2019-21, served as an integrative baseball performance consultant with the Phillies.

COLLEGE CAREER CUT SHORT

- Was a highly regarded pitcher in high school and had his sights set to play for one of college baseball's best teams.
- Briefly pitched at the University of Notre Dame (2000-01) and Santa Fe College [Fla.] (2001-02), but his career was cut short due to what would have been identified as Thoracic Outlet Syndrome.

"My arm, my body, it wasn't working with me. It was working against me. The wheels started turning. I told guys earlier in camp, 'I want to make sure that I give you all the ability to stay healthy, stay on the field, let everything about your stuff, your delivery, your command, all that come out, and not be hindered by any type of injuries or issues.' And that kind of all spurred from what I went through in college."

Kaplan told Todd Zolecki with MLB.com

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE GAME

- After college, spent a few years away from baseball, selling fitness equipment and designing gyms in Florida.
- Local parents learned of his playing experience and asked him to help with their kids development, which he found enjoyment in.
- Founded Athletic Development Performance (ADP) sports training facility in Jupiter.
- ADP led to co-founding Cressey Sports Performance (Fla.), a highly regarded training facility for professional baseball players, including pitchers Max Scherzer, Justin Verlander and Corey Kluber and Devin Williams.

"Brian really understands how the body works. He understands what things need to be done in the weight room, the training room, to accomplish what you want on the bump. He knows what questions to ask. He can speak the same language and work with people in multiple departments and help connect the dots."

Phillies former GM Sam Fuld told MLB.com

PITCHING DEVELOPMENT MENTALITY

- As the Phillies' Director of Pitching, had a pitching mentality around performance and toughness for player development:

"Guys spend a lot of time training. They get themselves immersed in pitching labs and they think that's what's necessary to be a big leaguer. It's not. You're not always going to be the biggest and strongest. It's not always the guy who throws the hardest or hits the ball the farthest. It's the guy that knows how to control his body, knows how to repeat it, knows how to manage it over the course of the season."

PERSONAL

- Is married to Ashley…has 3 children: Ellie, Grey and Mauve.
- Hobbies include surfing, playing golf and spending time with family.
- Earned an associate degree in arts, business and administration from Santa Fe College.

"The academic program that the organization offered was something my family and I really liked. Even though playing professional baseball is one of my dreams, I never gave up on my education because I feel that it's also very important. I'm so grateful that the D-backs allowed me to fulfill that dream. My family was very happy when they saw me in my cap and gown."

Barrosa on his academic achievement

"He is a very good example for other players like him. In the transition of coming to a new country and becoming a professional player, he put his schooling on hold. But we conveyed to him that an education is something that lasts forever, and he returned to the program and graduated. I felt extremely proud of him because I remembered how important education was for his parents and how happy they were to see that, in addition to viewing these youngsters as professional players, we also cared about the human side."

- Developed his cutter in 2020 with the support of Brewers' pitching coach Chris Hook, but mastered the pitch during the pandemic lockdown.

"COVID was kind of a blessing in disguise for him a little bit. It allowed him to kind of master a pitch that I don't think he would have been able to get there without that two months or whatever it was. He was able to master it and have a really good feel. We unlocked a little bit (in spring) and then he went home and unlocked it totally."

Former pitching coach Chris Hook told The Arizona Republic

1,000 K CLUB
- Reached 1,000 career strikeouts in 850.2 innings on Aug. 4, 2024, the fourth-fewest innings to the mark by pitchers who started in at least 50% of their appearances, trailing only Robbie Ray (810.0 IP), Yu Darvish (812.0 IP) and Blake Snell (820.2 IP) [Elias Sports Bureau].

THE MENTAL GAME

- Following a struggling 2019 season, started working with mental performance coach, Brian Cain, in Arizona to develop a strategic weekly routine:

"I have a five-day routine that I stick to, both physically and mentally. The way I break down my outings, the way, really, I go about life, has come through that mental practice. I think the mental side of it got me through 2019 and kind of helped me turn the corner, so that's definitely something I'll continue to practice and continue to evaluate outings."

"It's freed me up. I don't have to look at box scores and results to know how I'm doing because when I break down my outing, I'll know. I'll give myself a score and know what I need to work on, just all from breaking the game down."

CAL RIPKEN JR.'S IMPACT

- As an undersized 14-year-old, was inspired by Hall-of-Famer Cal Ripken Jr. when he spoke to his little brother's team during the Cal Ripken Jr. Baseball World Series.
- His dad, Rick, thought the message resonated with Corbin to stay eager before eventually hitting a growth spurt during his college years:

"His brother [Tyler] is two years younger than Corbin, and we didn't have Little League. We all played Cal Ripken Jr. Baseball. One year, his brother made it to the Cal Ripken World Series, and Corbin, who was 14, came along. He was our assistant coach, because he couldn't stand not being part of it. So Cal Ripken Jr. made it a point to sit down with every team that made it to the World Series and gave them 30 minutes or an hour to talk and answer questions. He looks 6-foot-6. He's a big man. But he looks at these kids and says, 'When I was a kid, I might have just snuck onto this team, but I would have never seen the field. You guys are so much better than I was at your age. So don't hold back. If you think you've got it, go fight for it.'"

Rick Burnes told MLB.com

- First took notice by Brewers scout, Corey Rodriguez, while with the Orleans Firebirds of the Cape Cod League in the summer of 2015.
- Burnes was suggested as a replacement for his teammate (due to innings limit) by his college coach, Eric Valenzuela, to which they agreed.
- In January 2016, Rodriguez and area scout Joe Graham met Burnes at a Starbucks near St. Mary's and left with intent on making him a Brewer.

"I was supposed to pitch somewhere that summer, I don't even remember where. But on the Cape, you know you are going to get in front of some eyes that otherwise wouldn't have seen you -- and definitely wouldn't have seen you at a place like St. Mary's. Sometimes your college coach has an opportunity to change your career. That's what happened to me."

Burnes told MLB.com

"I said, 'Hey, what do you like to do besides baseball?' He goes, 'Well, I play golf.' And I said, 'Just curious, what's your best round? And he goes, '61.' I said, 'Just so you know, that's my front nine.'"

"But the way he said it, you know he was telling the truth. We just got a great feeling about the competitiveness, the focus, the presence. He doesn't have any fear in him."

FRESH SIGHT IN 2020

- Underwent Lasik surgery over the 2019-20 offseason.

"We've been talking about it for a while. I was far-sighted. I always wore contacts in high school, then playing baseball I had issues with the contacts, so I went to glasses. In the summer, when it's humid, they would always fog up. It was less of a headache to have the surgery done. A lot of people are scared with lasers on the eyes but it's only four or five seconds. It's all machines now. I'm happy with it. I haven't had any issues. It's nice."

CC7 CHARITABLE FUND

"I love to see that spark in kids. That is when I feel like special things can happen and the biggest difference can be made."

Carroll told The Arizona Republic

- Teamed up with the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation to fund programs that support children's programs and projects dedicated to empowering, celebrating, and inspiring kids to reach for the stars.
- His commitment includes funding to support opportunities for kids to play baseball and softball including the D-backs Nike Jr. RBI Program with the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Valley and equipment donations for low-income leagues and communities as well as hosting students and youth athletes throughout the season who have demonstrated exceptional commitment, sportsmanship, volunteerism, character, and kindness to others.

CHILDREN'S BOOK DEBUT

- Was featured as the main character in a D-backs/Honeywell co-branded STEM children's book "Martian Moon Mayhem", which he distributed to local students around the Valley in 2024.

MUCH MORE THAN A PROSPECT

- D-backs scout, Dan Ramsay, who drafted 18-year-old Carroll, asks prospects what their goals in life would be if they reached the Majors…Ramsay recalled Carroll's out-of-norm response of "wanting to have an impact", a trait that heavily stems from his mom and dad, Brant and Pey-Lin.

"I grew up really lucky. I had amazing resources, I had the support of two great parents…and realizing just what that did for me and the opportunity I had, I want to afford that to more kids."

Carroll told The Arizona Republic

"A lot of people want to do that [serving the community] but it's not that easy…I don't think many people have the drive to want to do what he does. It's pretty special."

Asst. GM Amiel Sawdaye told The Arizona Republic

A SCOUT'S PERSPECTIVE

- While recovering from shoulder surgery in 2021, spent majority of the season watching D-backs games in the scout's section behind home plate at Chase Field with the club's advance scout, Jeff Gardner.

"[Jeff Gardner] would be with our Major League players every day and then be sitting behind home with me every night. He was gracious enough to let me come into his workspace. It was really, really great for him to let me do that. But it was a really neat look at the preparation piece of it and into some of the different approaches that our hitters were having toward their pitcher and seeing how they executed that. Just some of the finer details that I think I definitely wouldn't have had if I didn't have access to that. So, I'm super grateful to him for letting me barrage in there."

Carroll told The Arizona Republic

2021 REVIEW

- Limited to 7 games with High-A Hillsboro after suffering a season-ending right shoulder injury on May 10 @ Eugene while hitting a go-ahead, 2-run homer…underwent surgery to repair tears in the labrum and posterior capsule in his right shoulder.
- Hit safely in 6 of 7 games, batting .435 (10-for-23) with 1 double, 2 triples, 2 homers and 5 RBI with the Hops.
- Entered the season ranked as the D-backs' No. 1 prospect by both Baseball America (42nd overall) and MLB Pipeline (47th).

ICHIRO INSPIRATION

- His first baseball memory is of being a young boy sitting in the upper deck on the first-base side at Safeco Field watching Ichiro Suzuki play right field.
- Before the 2019 draft, the Mariners, who knew Carroll had grown up idolizing Ichiro and his iconic swing, invited him to visit Safeco Field and made sure the 2 met.
- Carroll talked with Ichiro about hitting and took away an important lesson from his lifelong idol: "Be consistent in your routine."
- To this day, Carroll's phone screensaver is a photo with Ichiro from that 2019 meeting holding a tiny No. 51 jersey, Carroll's first jersey as a kid when he was about 6 yrs old.

"So by keeping the same routine every day, you can at least have the confidence to say that you went out there with 100% confidence in your preparation. I think I take a lot of confidence in my ability to prepare."

Carroll told MLB.com's Steve Gilbert

2020 REVIEW

- Spent the entire season at the D-backs' Alternate Training Site at Salt River Fields.

"There was that personal piece to it, that personal development, of facing better pitchers than I would have, working with higher level coaches and understanding a little better what would be expected at the big league level. Also, learning to play with guys like Alek Thomas, guys that hopefully I'm playing with for a long time. I think that was so valuable because in a normal year we probably would have been playing on different fields."

THANKS MOM!

- Drove with his mom, Pey-Lin, from Seattle to Scottsdale, arriving the day before the D-backs' 2020 Alternate Training Site opened.
- With "alot of nervous energy" the day before camp started, Carroll and his mom went to Chaparral High School in Scottsdale and his mom threw him batting practice.
- After they were done and back at their car in the parking lot, they realized the gate was locked and were stuck…the D-backs ended up sending Luis Gonzalez, whose son Jacob graduated from Chaparral, over to get them out.

"She's pretty good. She's a lefty too, so that's a good angle for me to see."

Carroll told MLB.com's Steve Gilbert

- Notable alumni include co-founders of Microsoft, Bill Gates and Paul Allen, as well as Adam West, who played the original Batman in the 1960s TV show.
- Selected to the All-League Academic Team and didn't receive a B since his sophomore year.

"Corbin is a true 5-tool athlete. He has a presence on the baseball field like few I have ever seen in my coaching career. He is so mechanically sound and he never seems to make a bad swing. Corbin is just a force."

- His 83 pitches marked the fewest thrown among D-back starters all-time who threw at most 6.0 innings in a debut (previous low: John Patterson, 85 on July 20, 2002 @ Padres).

PURSUIT OF HIS BÉISBOL DREAM

- By age 18, had yet to sign with a Major League club and suffered a broken wrist, which prompted him to quit baseball and move away from his native Venezuela.
- The life change saw him move from Colombia, to Ecuador and then Peru, where he would earn money by selling beverages and desserts on the streets, cleaning car windshields at stop lights or even asking for assitance just to be able to afford something to eat.
- He met a fellow Venezuelan street vendor, Jhonatan Carrillo, in Peru, who encouraged him to not give up on his baseball dream…Carrillo helped him train and sent out videos of Díaz pitching to scouts he knew back in Venezuela.
- When he tried out for newly-appointed D-backs area scout, Ronald Salazar, he impressed enough to earn a strong recommendation to be signed.
- However, because of signing restrictions during the covid outbreak, he was forced to stay at the club's academy in the Dominican Republic, which allowed him to train regularly and put on weight thanks to an improved diet.
- In February of 2021, Díaz was finally signed.

"We signed him because [Salazar] was all over him. He was insisting that we sign him. That was the first player he signed. And now this is his first big-leaguer."

D-backs Latin American Scouting Director César Gerónimo Jr. said to Nick Piecoro of the Arizona Republic

"I went through a lot of things in life besides baseball, moving to those countries, asking for money on the streets, so a tryout was nothing. It was the same the day I stepped on a big league mound. I didn't even feel nervous."

Díaz told the Arizona Republic

POSITION SWITCH

A MEMORABLE B-DAY PRESENT

- On Feb. 15, 2019, received the news from his agent that he would be signed by Arizona, the same day as his mom, Maribel's, birthday.
- After his first pitching session of a multi-day tryout, he did not feel comfortable with his initial performance…he said he prepared himself mentally and bounced back 2 days later determined to have a better showing…that same night, he was given the news at a local restaurant.

"It's a gift that God gave us and a blessing that I will never forget. I called my mom and gave her the news on her birthday. I then locked myself in the bathroom, I thanked God, first and foremost, and started crying. It was a very emotional and special day."

A SWITCH TO THE MOUND

- Began as an infielder during his amateur years and looked to sign with a Major League club as an outfielder…at the suggestion of a trainer in his native Venezuela, he made the switch to pitcher around age 15.

A FAN OF "deGOAT" AND "ACE"

- When he made the switch to become a starting pitcher, became a big fan of Jacob deGrom and the late Yordano Ventura…above all he points to the pair of right-handers' mechanics that drew his to them.

"I really liked the way they had fluid mechanics and watching the way they really focused on location on every pitch."

WHEN NOT ON THE BUMP

- Enjoys cooking in his spare time, primarily Venezuela's signature dish, arepas, which he learned from his mom, Maribel.
- Has increased his enjoyment for reading books on a daily basis, in both Spanish and English.

- In his first big league call-up with Toronto in 2014, he noticed that Jeter, who had already announced it was his final season, was working on baserunning drills at 11 am.
- He introduced himself to Jeter and asked if he would sign a jersey for him.

"[Jeter] said congrats on the call-up and absolutely, no problem about the jersey. And he told me, just remember one thing - always have fun playing the game. I saw two things in that moment. I saw a guy, that no matter how late in his career he was, he was still working his butt off trying to get better and two, he told me to have fun always and always enjoy the game."

Graveman said in an interview

DAD AND COACH

"GUMBY"
- Given the nickname, "Gumby", in college after a teammate said it was because of his long limbs and lack of coordination.

"I was so long, kind of uncoordinated…showed up first day of summer practice, and one of the fifth-year seniors turned around, asked me what my name is: 'I'm gonna call you Gumby from now on,' and it stuck. I hated it at first, but lately everyone calls me it. Just kind of learned to go with it."

WHAT OTHER TEAMMATES SAID...
- In a 2023 FOX Sports article, "How Jordan Montgomery Went From Yankees Cast-Off to Rangers Ace", teammates Nathaniel Lowe and Max Scherzer, as well as pitching coach, Mike Maddux, shared their thoughts on the lefty.

"Well, he's not Gerrit Cole. He's not Domingo German. He's not Luis Severino. He's Jordan Montgomery. All those guys, they have a certain hype about them. But, I thought he was better on the mound. There was less noise. He's not having trouble with certain things that other guys were having trouble with in that rotation. He just shows up and he pitches."

Lowe told FOX Sports

"He knows how to pitch. Kind of throw all the metrics out the window, it goes back to the basics. He knows how to locate, how to change speeds, all the stuff that we used to talk about. He excels at that."

Scherzer told FOX Sports

"Jordan has come face to face that he's a pretty darn good pitcher. And no stage is too big for him because they're all equal. He treats every game the same. He treats every inning the same. He treats every at-bat the same. That's what I like about Jordan."

Maddux told FOX Sports

STRONG MENTALITY
- Considers himself a mentally strong competitor when pitching and explained how it manifests on the mound.

"Like getting out of jams, not giving in to hitters, not letting errors or anything get in my head or showing any kind of emotion on the mound. In college, our pitching coach was kind of stoic, until he got to know you. He always said, 'You want to look the same no matter what's happening, if you're throwing a perfect game or if you're giving up 20 in an inning, you don't want to show a kink in your armor.'"

A LITTLE 'STITIOUS
- Admitted he is very superstitious since his grandma was very superstitious when he was growing up.

"When a black cat crosses the road when you're driving, you gotta put an 'X' up on the top left of your windshield… when someone's passing you the salt at the dinner table, they have to put it down before you can grab it. You spill salt, throw it over your shoulder…you can't walk under ladders…I've got a routine, but it's too in-depth. I can't say that and give it away."

GO GAMECOCKS
- Attended the University of South Carolina from 2012-14.
- Was teammates with Christian Walker in 2012, when they finished as National runners-up after falling to the University of Arizona.
- Earned Freshman All-America honors from Collegiate Baseball in 2012 after posting a 6-1 record with a 3.62 ERA in 74.2 innings with 57 strikeouts and just 10 walks.
- Tossed 8.0 scoreless innings in his first College World Series appearance, defeating Arkansas 2-0, on June 21, 2012.
- Named to the NCAA Regional All-Tournament Team in 2012 and 2013.

HIGH SCHOOL
- Is a 2011 graduate of Sumter (S.C.) High School.
- Named 2011 Gatorade Player of the Year for South Carolina after going 11-0 with a 0.38 ERA and 114 strikeouts over 74.1 innings as a senior.

A "SEMI-UNICORN" FASTBALL

- Averages 18.0+ inches of vertical break on his 4-seam fastball (at 95.0+ MPH), 2.0+ inches above the league average.

"He stays behind the ball so he creates the hoppy type of fastball, which, the ball doesn't really rise but it doesn't go down as most everybody else. So that makes him a semi-unicorn."

Former pitching coach Brent Strom

"I love it when I see 20 [inches of vertical break on the scoreboard]. That's when you know it's a good fastball."

"I've always felt even when I was throwing 90-92 (mph), it felt like I had a good fastball. That was before I knew the numbers and spin rates and stuff. I think it's my natural arm slot, arm path and how I deliver the ball."

DRAWING RANDY JOHNSON COMPARISONS
- In 2018, Athletics' manager Bob Melvin mentioned 'Randy Johnson' when asked to name a starter similar to the 6-foot-7 left-hander.

"The obvious guy is the guy I managed in Arizona. You hate to put that kind of expectations or comp on a guy but there are some similarities, maybe a little different arm angle. But the hair, the whole bit and the height and the velocity... Randy Johnson."

Melvin told Susan Slusser of the San Francisco Chronicle

- In 2017, Melvin asked Johnson to talk to Puk and Athletics' lefty starter Sean Manaea.

"He didn't get into grips and stuff like that, it was more kind of the mindset and how to prepare yourself, what to expect, how to be self-driven. Both those guys were really interested, and why wouldn't you be? Randy was not a real talkative guy over his career, but I was really impressed with what he had to say. I was thrilled to death to get him out here."

Melvin told the San Francisco Chronicle

"Yeah, he's a tall guy. I'm a tall guy. When he was younger, he had long hair, so do I. It's nice to be compared to him."

Puk told the San Francisco Chronicle

USA BASEBALL
- Played for the USA Baseball Collegiate National Team in 2015, where he was ranked as the No. 1 prospect on Team USA by both Baseball America and Perfect Game.
- Played part in a combined no-hitter in the series opener vs. Cuba, the first no-hitter allowed by Cuba in international play…he was the first reliever following Tanner Houck (Missouri), tossing 4.0 hitless innings with 1 walk allowed and a runner to reach on an error...Ryan Hendrix (Texas A&M) closed out the game.

HIGH SCHOOL 2-WAY PROSPECT
- Is a 2013 graduate of Washington High School in Cedar Rapids, IA.
- Was regarded as one of the nation's top 2-way prospects as a first baseman and pitcher.
- Ranked No. 23 nationally and was the No. 5 left-hander in the Class of 2013 Final Rankings from Perfect Game.
- Was drafted by the Tigers in the 35th round but did not sign.
- Participated in the 2012 Perfect Game All-American Classic held at Petco Field.

FOOTBALL IS A FAMILY SPORT

- His father, Dr. David Puk, was a 4-year football letterman (fullback) and Academic All-American at the University of Minnesota from 1982-85, uncle Steven lettered at Minnesota in 1984, uncle, J.J. was an all-Big Ten linebacker at the University of Iowa from 1986-87 and uncle, Kevin, lettered at Stanford from 1989-91, while all 4 also played football at Washington High School.
- As a high school sophomore, A.J. was the Warriors' starting quarterback and guided them into the state playoffs.
- In summer 2011 following his sophomore year, he made the decision to only pursue baseball... the decision was made after attending the Perfect Game National Games-Class of 2013 Showcase in San Diego.

"When he gave up football, I've got to admit Friday nights died for me. It's hard to put into words, but there's always been a Puk playing (football). All my brothers would call me and ask me what he was going to do and I told them, 'Well, he's giving up football.' And we all kind of went, 'Well, OK, it's not the end of the world.' But it felt like it every Friday night (this past fall) and I do miss those Friday nights."

"He was going to play football in the fall but after going out to San Diego and speaking with a couple of pitching coaches, they told him this was something he really should stay with. That made his decision (for him) and from there he just played with his heart and soul."

A.J.'s father, David, told Perfect Game about his decision

"It was difficult because my whole family has played football. But it really worked out and it was something that had to be done."

A.J. said of his decision to concentrate on baseball

INCREASE IN VELOCITY

- Went into the 2011 Spring Top Prospect Showcase at Perfect Game Field at Veterans Memorial Stadium in Cedar Rapids more highly regarded for his hitting prowess than his pitching skills, with a fastball that sat at 81-83 mph.
- After a few months of continuing to work on his pitching skills, he was invited to the PG Junior National Showcase in Fort Myers, Fla. and displayed that his fastball velocity increased from 81-83 MPH to 84-86 MPH.

"When I was at the Junior National in Florida, the catchers asked me how hard I threw, and I was only throwing in the low-80s then. I kind of lied, I guess, and told them mid-80s and then I actually started throwing in the mid-80s. It was kind of funny because I hadn't ever thrown that hard."

PERSONAL

- Father, Dr. David Puk, is a Cedar Rapids Ophthalmologist (eye care specialist), and his mother, Chris, was a gymnast at the University of Missouri.
- Sister, Jessica, played softball at Ole Miss and Arizona State.
- Brother, Owen, plays baseball at Florida International University.

THE LEFTY LENDS A HELPING HAND

- As originally written by Peter Abraham of The Boston Globe in 2019:

"When a team of Little Leaguers (8-10-year-old division) from Maracaibo, Venezuela, qualified for the Latin America championship tournament in Mexico, Rodriguez paid the airfare so the team could attend. The team had appealed for help from the government and other sources in Venezuela but struck out each time. They even slept on the streets of Caracas while on a fundraising trip but found no assistance in a country devastated by poverty. It appeared likely at one point that the team wouldn't get to Mexico. Rodriguez got word of their plight and arranged for the tickets. The team arrived in Mexico after the opening ceremony, but won the tournament by beating Guatemala, Panama, Puerto Rico, and Mexico twice before defeating Curacao in the championship. They arrived back in Maracaibo to a celebration attended by 2,000 people at Edgar Ferrer Stadium and were given the name 'The Heroes of San Miguel' for the part of the city they're from."

"EL GUALO"

- Given the nickname "Gualo" by his family after they found it funny that his little brother, Luis, could not pronounce Eduardo when he began to speak…the nickname stuck and he placed it on the back of his jersey in Boston during Players' Week.

PERSONAL

- Married to Catherine…has 2 children: Annie and Ian.

"That's me, I try to be that happy guy. I don't focus on bad things. I try to focus on being happy. This game is so hard and you don't have time to take that. I just take the good moments and try to be happy and bring the good vibes only. I keep it there. I try to enjoy the moment and enjoy my game and what I do. That's what [teammates] can always expect from me. I always smile no matter what."

BYUNG-HYUN KIM INSPIRATION

- His submarine-style delivery was inspired by former D-backs close, Byung-Hyun Kim.
- As a kid, would mimic Kim's "untouchable" style while playing wiffle ball with his friends.
- Prior to his high school junior year in the summer of 2008, a pitching coach looked at "how low Thompson's legs crouched in his delivery" and that his arm slot "looks like it might be natural a little bit lower".

> "It was logical. And the results pretty much happened right away. The whole sidearm thing, it's me. Without it, I don't play Division I baseball and I don't play professional baseball."
> Thompson told the Arizona Republic

SERVING THE YOUTH

- Served as Celebrity Coach in 2024 in the D-backs' Superstar Baseball Camp @ Chase Field for players ages 7-12.

> "As a kid, Major League Baseball players were my superheroes. Now I get a chance to be in the role of hero yet show kids that remind me of myself 20 years ago that I am a regular human being and that, if they work hard enough, they can be exactly where I am today."

AUTOGRAPH HOUND

- Ryan's dad, Ed, took him on a weekend trip to Seattle each year to attend a Mariners series and they would wait at visiting hotels for players to sign.
- During one of the series, he ran at full speed up a "down direction" escalator to reach Derek Jeter.

> "The Yankees were in town. It was around two in the morning. I was going down the escalator, turned around and looked up, and Jeter and Tanyon Sturtze were right there. I was not going the miss the opportunity, so I turned around and starting sprinting as fast as I could up the escalator. I made it to the top step, tripped and hit my face on the metal grate. Jeter and Sturtze turned and went 'oooohhhh'. I got up and was bleeding. I asked if I could have their autograph. They were like, 'kid, it ain't worth it.' Jeter didn't sign for me, but the next day, I was waiting for him outside and he signed for me."

THANKS DAD!

- In 2020, with no fans allowed inside Tropicana Field, Ryan's father, Ed, flew to St. Petersburg from Oregon to watch his Major League debut from Ferg's Sports Bar & Grill near the ballpark.

  "This whole journey has been mine and my dad's together. This is what he wanted to do. When I was growing up, he set me up to live his dream for him. When I got 10 or 12 or so it became my dream as well and we've lived it out together. We've been together every step of the way."

  "For him to not be there for my debut was killing him so he was like I am going to fly in anyways and I'm going to be as close to the stadium as I can to feel like I'm there. It was cool and we got to meet up afterwards in the parking lot. I didn't want to be that guy that got covid and got everyone sick so we were at a distance waving."

- On Father's Day, June 16, 2024, Ed "Big Ed" Thompson threw out a ceremonial first pitch to his son.

MORE THAN JUST A TATTOO

- Has "Riley 2001-2021" tattooed on the inside of his right wrist, a dedication to his closest hometown friend since birth, who died by suicide.
- Overwhelmed with emotion, he confided in former pitching coach, Barry Enright, who lost his father at age 13 to heart disease, and worked frequently with mental skills staff to slowly pull himself back to a healthier place.

> "Having somebody there to motivate you and tell you that you're worth it and that, if you stay on schedule and do what you need to do, you've got a bright future, Barry [Enright] telling me all that kept me motivated."
>
> Walston told The Athletic

FIRST BIG LEAGUE INJURY STINT

- In June 2024, had his first stint on the injured list with left elbow inflammation, which he said provided a "nice reset on what I need to do to make sure my body is ready for the big leagues".

> "That's something that an athlete has got to learn. Keeping up with my arm a little better. Doing your band work, and really just the little things that you normally don't even think about because you are just consumed with the day. You have to take those little things seriously."
> Walston told Diamondbacks on SI

CHANGEUPS AND FOOTBALL

- 2022 Amarillo pitching coach, Shane Loux, said Walston's changeup emerged as "by far his best secondary pitch," in part thanks to some work the former high school quarterback put in throwing the football around before games.

> "Walston said the release on the football was similar to what he wanted to feel with his changeup. As he threw the football and turned his hand over to get the spiral, he found a changeup that had some really good sink to it. He was able to get under some bats with it."

LUIS GONZALEZ AWARD

In 2015, the Luis Gonzalez Award was created, which will be given annually to the D-backs player who best exemplifies the talents, spirit and heart of the D-backs legend both on and off the field, as voted by his teammates, coaches and clubhouse staff.

One of the most popular figures in Arizona Diamondbacks history because of the way he interacted with fans and his game-winning single in Game 7 of the 2001 World Series to give the organization its first World Championship, Gonzalez became the first former player to have his number retired by the D-backs during a pre-game ceremony in 2010.

NO-HITTERS

RANDY JOHNSON ON MAY 18, 2004 @ BRAVES

Adept at setting records throughout his career, Randy Johnson added something new to his impressive resume when he retired all 27 Atlanta Braves he faced on May 18, 2004, at Turner Field. At 40 years, 251 days, he became the oldest pitcher in history to record a perfect game, bettering Cy Young, who was 37 years, 37 days on May 5, 1904. Johnson's gem was the 15th in modern day regular season history, the 16th including Don Larsen's perfect effort for the Yankees in the 1956 World Series.

Johnson fanned 13 in the 117-pitch performance which concluded with a 98-mph pitch to Eddie Perez to end the game. It was the first no-no in franchise history and first perfect game in the Majors since the Yankees' David Cone on July 18, 1999 vs. Montreal. It was also the first perfecto in the National League since the Expos' Dennis Martínez on July 28, 1991 @ Dodgers.

UNOFFICIALLY MADISON BUMGARNER ON APRIL 25 @ BRAVES [GAME 2]

Madison Bumgarner tossed MLB's first unofficial no-hitter (7.0 IP) on April 25, 2021 @ Braves [Game 2] under the new doubleheader rules that began in 2020, facing the minimum 21 batters.

In an effort to speed the proceedings during the coronavirus pandemic, Major League Baseball declared that games played as part of a doubleheader would be scheduled to last 7.0 innings instead of 9.0.

Although the game was officially a "complete game", the league stated that it would abide by the definition of the Elias Sports Bureau: "No-hitters by teams and individuals shall not be credited in scheduled seven-inning games, unless the game goes to extra innings and the team (or individual in a complete game) pitches at least nine innings and does not allow a hit."

It marked Bumgarner's 300th career start, 16th complete game and seventh shutout.

JACKIE ROBINSON

MLB CAREER

YEARS: 1947-1956

AWARDS: 6x NL All-Star (1949-54), 1947 Rookie of the Year, 1949 NL Most Valuable Player.

NOTES: Bud Selig announced on April 15, 1997, that Jackie Robinson's No. 42 was retired by Major League Baseball, barring players on any Major League club to wear the number…as an exception to the retired number policy, MLB has recently begun honoring Robinson's legacy by allowing players to wear No. 42 on April 15 each season to celebrate Jackie Robinson Day…for the 60th anniversary of Robinson's Major League debut, MLB invited players to wear No. 42 on Jackie Robinson Day in 2007…the gesture was originally the idea of Ken Griffey, Jr., who sought Rachel Robinson's permission to wear the number…after receiving her permission, Selig not only allowed Griffey to wear the number, but also extended an invitation to all clubs to do the same.

GREG SCHULTE

GREG SCHULTE RADIO BOOTH DEDICATION | SEPTEMBER 29, 2023

Greg Schulte, who retired following the 2023 season, joined the Arizona Diamondbacks organization in the 1998 inaugural season and served as the D-backs' Radio Play-by-Play Announcer for 26 seasons. On September 29, 2023, Schulte was surprised by a seemingly impromptu gathering of media and front office staff upon his arrival. D-backs President, CEO & General Partner Derrick Hall greeted Schulte, his wife Nancy, son Scott and daughter Stephanie, and other family members who'd gathered to honor a D-backs legend. As Schulte walked down the familiar Chase Field hallway, he walked past photos lining the walls celebrating his career, and that the radio broadcast booth he'd spent so much time in over the last 26 seasons, now bears his name. The Arizona Diamondbacks dedicated and renamed the booth the "Greg Schulte Radio Booth."

"We could not think of a better way to celebrate a career like Greg's and the impact he has had on the Arizona Diamondbacks organization," said Hall. "Greg's voice is synonymous with D-backs baseball and generations of D-backs fans have experienced the game through listening to his calls on the radio. Now, his legacy will live on right here at Chase Field as the next generation of broadcasters make calls from the Greg Schulte Radio Booth."

Some of Schulte's career calls and highlights include:

- Nearly 4,000 regular-season and postseason games on radio and TV during his 26 seasons.
- Luis Gonzalez's walk-off, ninth-inning single to win Game 7 of 2001 World Series over the New York Yankees.
- Randy Johnson's historic achievements, including his perfect game on May 18, 2004 @ Braves, his 20-strikeout game, his 3,000th and 4,000th strikeout games and more.
- Four no-hitters, two for his team and two by opposing pitchers: D-backs' Edwin Jackson on June 25, 2010 @ Rays and Tyler Gilbert on August 14, 2021 vs. Padres;
  Cardinals' Jose Jimenez on June 25, 1999 @ D-backs; and Marlins' Anibal Sanchez on Sept. 6, 2006 vs. D-backs.
- His 3,000th D-backs game on April 19, 2017.
- In recognition of his 2,000th D-backs' broadcast, the organization honored Schulte by distributing a bobblehead in his likeness (first 15,000 fans) on July 10, 2010 vs. Marlins.
- His unique homerun call of "deep drive…warning track…wall…you can touch 'em all" is synonymous with D-backs radio broadcasts.
- From 1998-99, Schulte and Bob Brenly partnered for 3 innings nightly on television and his nickname "the Gub'nuh" was bestowed upon him by Brenly and Thom Brennaman.
- Part of the Phoenix broadcast scene since 1979.

MEDIA COVERAGE AND CREDENTIAL GUIDELINES

Pursuant to Major League Baseball policy and Arizona Diamondbacks media coverage and credential guidelines:

Credentials for the Arizona Diamondbacks Spring Training and Regular Season (does not apply to the Postseason) are issued at the discretion of the Arizona Diamondbacks Communications Department. Approved media outlets will be issued either Season Credentials or Single Game/Daily credentials based on the below guidelines.

Credentialed media members must adhere to Major League Baseball (MLB) terms and conditions (MLB.com/tac) and any violations are grounds for the revoking of a credential.

All requests for credentials must be submitted on MLB's online credential site: http://credentials.mlb.com. Priority is given to working media using the following factors, among others, to issue credentials accordingly:

- Credentials/coverage will be considered for working members of the media representing major media outlets, including Daily Major Metropolitan Newspapers, Local Affiliates of National TV Networks, FM/AM Local Radio Stations and Websites of National Outlets, in the business of news gathering.
- The dissemination of editorial content must be the primary purpose of the news outlet and the news outlet must demonstrate a record of sustained, original coverage of local sports and/or news.
- Credible media outlets are growing businesses with a strong following/readership/viewership and focused on news gathering and dissemination with credential holders on assignment providing original, active, and consistent coverage specific to the event.
- Past coverage and attendance at Spring Training and Regular Season games, media sessions, workouts, events, etc. for the past five (5) seasons will be taken into consideration for the granting of credentials.
- Media outlets should have gone "live" to the public prior to January 1, 2021, and the staff (writers, reporters, content creators) should have a strong professional history in the business of news gathering and dissemination.
- Media outlets should employ at least three (3) full-time salaried individuals who provide editorial oversight before an article can be posted. Full-time employees intending to provide event coverage may be considered for a credential.
- Independent bloggers or fan sites where anyone can submit articles for publication do not qualify for full season credentials.
- Media outlets should have at least one (1) designated beat writer or reporter with content attributed to the beat writer(s) or reporter(s).
- A requesting media agency should represent a collective, organizational editorial voice, not simply the offerings of a single individual.
- Media outlets should have a strong following/readership/viewership and exhibit consistent and substantial growth in legitimate, unique visitors per month over a rolling 12-month period.
- Credentials will not be issued to representatives whose outlet exists solely as a platform for distributing unoriginal content (press releases, aggregate news sites, etc.).
- Credentialed media outlets should have an active website and at least two (2) consistently active social media channels, preferably bearing the name of the outlet (and not the individual).
- Media who exclusively use social media platforms (Instagram, Twitter/X, Facebook, YouTube, TikTok, etc.) and do not have a website will not be credentialed without a media purpose.
- Freelance writers and photographers should have a specific assignment from an affiliated, established, major news-gathering outlet and the editor or director must make their request from an official outlet email address.
- Photographer credentials with full access will be given to individuals associated with a legitimate wire service or accompanied by an approved writer from the same media outlet. Any photos taken should be used for editorial purposes only. Commercial use of photos should be sourced through Getty Images or MLB directly.
- Interns will be allowed for Daily Major Metropolitan Newspapers, Local Affiliates of National TV Networks, FM/AM Local Stations and Websites of National Outlets on a case-by-case basis.
- Student credential requests must be submitted by a faculty advisor of an accredited college program and the advisor must host the student for the assignment. Student access is limited to press box access with case-by-case consideration given for the interview room and/or clubhouse access. Requests from collegiate media outlets will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

NORMAS DE COBERTURA DE MEDIOS Y CREDENCIALES

Credenciales para la Temporada Primaveral y Temporada Regular del 2025 de Los Diamondbacks de Arizona (no aplica para la Postemporada) son otorgadas a discreción del Departamento de Comunicaciones de Los Diamondbacks de Arizona. A los medios de comunicación que sean aprobados les serán otorgadas Credenciales de Temporada o Credenciales de Partidos Individuales/Diarios basado en las normas mencionadas abajo.

Miembros de los medios acreditados se deben adherir a los términos y condiciones de Major League Baseball (MLB) terms and conditions y cualquier violación será motivo para retirar una credencial. Todas las solicitudes deben ser sometidos a través del sitio de MLB en línea: http://credentials.mlb.com.

Se les dará prioridad a medios utilizando los siguientes criterios, entre otros, para otorgar credenciales debidamente:

- Credenciales/cobertura serán consideradas para miembros activos de los medios que representan medios de comunicación reconocidos que como empresa buscan recopilar noticias.
- La difusión de contenido editorial debe ser el motivo principal del medio de comunicación y el medio debe mostrar una trayectoria de cobertura constante y original de los deportes locales y/o noticias locales.
- Medios de comunicación de credibilidad son empresas que están en crecimiento y cuentan con un/a fuerte seguimiento/lectoría/audiencia y están enfocados en la recopilación y difusión de noticias con sus miembros acreditados en asignación proporcionando cobertura original, activa y consistente de un evento específico.
- Cobertura y asistencia previa a partidos durante la Temporada Primaveral y Temporada Regular, sesiones de medios, entrenamientos, eventos, etc. que se hayan realizado en las últimas cinco (5) temporadas serán tomadas en consideración para el otorgamiento de credenciales.
- Los medios de comunicaciones deberían estar en "vivo" para el público antes del 1 de enero del 2021 y el equipo (escritores/as, reporteros/as, creadores/as de contenido) deben tener un fuerte historial profesional en la industria de la recopilación y difusión de noticias.
- Los medios de comunicación deben emplear mínimo tres (3) empleados de tiempo completo quienes proporcionan supervisión editorial antes de que una nota pueda ser publicada. Empleados de tiempo completo con la intención de proveer cobertura de un evento pueden ser considerados para una credencial.
- Bloggers independientes o sitios de aficionados donde cualquier persona puede someter una nota para publicar, no califican para credenciales de Temporada Completa.
- Medios de comunicación deben tener por lo menos un/a (1) escritor/a asignado/a o reportero/a con contenido que sea atribuida a los escritores/as asignados/as o reporteros/as.
